

NCTS 2020

Workshop on Applied Mathematics at Taichung

Date:

March 26, 2020

Venue:

National Chung Hsing University

Aim & Scope:

This workshop is to bring together some world leading experts on various topics on applied mathematics, including wave propagation, mathematical biology and other related topics. Through this workshop, we aim to introduce some new ideas on the above mentioned topics to the audience, especially to this community.

Also, by interchanging ideas and intense discussions, we expect to create more collaborations between foreign speakers and local researchers.
