

2023 Central-Taiwan Conference on Mathematical Modeling and Scientific Computation

Date | February 18~19, 2023
Venue | Room 102, Xue Si Building
Feng Chia University

The "2023 Central-Taiwan Conference on Mathematical Modeling and Scientific Computing (2023 中區數學建模暨科學計算研討會)" will take place on 18-19 February 2023 at Feng Chia University, Taichung, Taiwan. This conference includes two 1-hour and nine 50-minute presentations. This conference is held for first time and is expected to be held annually in the future as well. The aim of this annual meeting is to bring together active researchers in central Taiwan from various fields of mathematical modeling and scientific computing, to share their recent experiences, discuss recent progress in this area, and most important of all, to facilitate future research collaborations among them. Besides traditional topics in this field, we also have talks on the recently popular field of deep learning and artificial intelligence.
